

STEEL ERECTORS SAFETY ASSOCIATION OF COLORADO

ARE YOU A MEMBER?

WHAT IS SESAC AND WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS OF JOINING?

SESAC is a group of progressive steel erectors, associate member suppliers and industry professionals who have joined together to improve the steel erection industry in Colorado. This group includes union and non-union members and suppliers. Through shared safety management efforts, we are dedicated to one common purpose, improving safety in the steel erection industry. Since the group's inception in June of 1992, the members have benefited from shared knowledge of safety systems in the workplace, standardized safety policies and training programs, and regular jobsite safety inspections by safety professionals that specialize in steel erection safety.

SESAC representatives have served on or testified in behalf of SESAC on the following rulemaking committees:

- SENRAAC ~ Steel Erection Negotiated Rulemaking Advisory Committee
- CDAC ~ Crane and Derrick Advisory Committee
- OMB ~ Office of Management and Budget

- ACCSH ~ OSHA Advisory Committee on Construction Safety and Health
- USACE ~ United States Army Corps of Engineers
- ANSI A.10 ~ American National Standards Institute

The results have been improved safety performance, better trained workers, and positive recognition by general contractors, fabricators, and OSHA.

SESAC is dedicated to improving the industry's safety record. By joining you will be among the best in the business, all of whom have improving safety records. With the SESAC membership, and professional safety
